

Simplify and centralise the special circumstances procedure.

- Create a single, centralised process that is easy for students to understand and access.
- Ensure students experiencing bereavement receive compassionate academic support from the university.